Your Turn!

With nearly 100 million players in the world, golf is the most practised individual sport on the planet.

Golf is not only a sport, a bar, a restaurant, a proshop, a hotel ...
It's a state of mind.

Artistic director for communications agencies for the past twenty-five years, < Franck Pasty, combined his two hobbies, golf and graphics, by creating a pedagogical concept and fun-to-learn sport.

Echoing the quintessence of the rules of golf, the DART N'GOLF is at a point where it may be regarded by future fans as a new sport!

The golf course is materialized in the form of a game of darts, with fairways, water obstacles, bunkers, greens, inextricable roughs and all that constitutes the richness and difficulty of the discipline.

WAIT N'GOLF® is able to faithfully reproduce the layout of golf courses around the world!

Strategy, skill, concentration, suspense, with DART N'GOLF golfers find all elements of golf.

"I look forward to playing again."

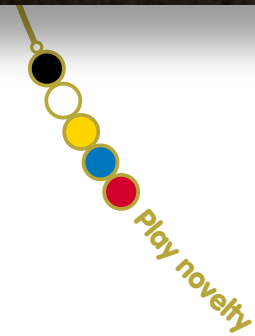

Already tested with professional golfers, the game has received very favorable feedback in the early tests. All participants have focused on the rapid assimilation of the rules of the game.

"To have tested the DART N'GOLF during a week of competition brings together dozens of golf professionals and amateurs, it is clear that everyone has an interest and a lot of fun, confirms Arnaud Criner, PGA professional player and teacher. I enjoyed the game and look forward to playing again..."

"A game true to reality. We must pick from different options, decide to play safe or not. It's an interesting way of learning golf", says Fabien Constans, director of the golf course of Erdre Nantes (France) and high-level player.

Play the game!

Some games have already inspired from the theme of golf, such as dice games or video games, but have not involved physical activity, strategy and rules inherent in "real" golf.

Entirely a new discipline, DART N'GOLF complies with all golf specifics, including those of "label" as well as the charter of good golfers.

Similarly, DART N'GOLF reproduces with darts, the principles of the game which must be as precise as in the parent discipline.

Designed for international understanding, the game develops golf strategy while enjoying yourself.
